To whom it may concern,

I enthusiastically recommend Jason Micallef. I've worked with Jason over the last several years in the development of our enterprise cyber security software. Jason provided consistent UI/UX design that modernized, simplified, and enhanced the interface for all our customers. He integrated complex technical requirements and quickly adapted to shifting needs as the product matured. He led his team through design and implementation challenges supporting both legacy and modern OSs, browsers and platforms.

The results of his work enabled us to compete in low resource environments and thrive in state of the art large scale deployments internationally. I've relied on Jason to bring his experience, judgement, and management skills to drive the innovation of our products every day. I have no doubt that he'll continue to bring success to any company that he works with.

Sincerely,

Jeremy Walters
